“Whether they were doing a classical transcription or jazz, the members of this group succeeded in capturing the audience with their beautiful blend and balance, as well as humorous and easy-going narration given by all members of the group.”

Boston Brass

Winners at the 1992 International Brass Quintet Competition in Narbonne, France, Boston Brass is one of the most exciting and multi-faceted brass ensembles to have emerged on the concert stage in recent years.

Their unique, full, robust and extremely musical sound is equally impressive from virtuosic arrangements of Baroque and Opera to Pop and Jazz. Their flexibility, versatility and personal approach to performing always leaves audiences wanting more.

Their latest recordings include "Young Fogies," a jazz and big band compilation, and "Stealing the Show," featuring the quintet's personal arrangements of overtures and arias.

Whether performing with orchestra or in recital, and with programs ranging from holiday classics to jazz, Boston Brass has established itself among the finest ensembles of its kind performing today.

"When playing solo, brass players act as the musical acrobats of the symphony orchestra. Virtuosos in their own right, Boston Brass nonetheless proved themselves to be excellent ensemble players."

- The Nantucket
Beacon

"... the quintet seemed connected by invisible bonds that created a unison like that of brothers, who know what the other is going to say, or play before they ever do it."

- The Altus Times

"The Boston Brass is a quintet of versatile musicians who richly earned the standing ovation they received at the end of their excellent and entertaining program."
